

AFRICAN ALBINO FOUNDATION

Sun lotion
protects albinos in Africa

Each donation brings a bottle of sun lotion closer to an albino in Africa

Albinos in Africa get burnt every day by the sharp sunlight as they have neither the means nor the knowledge to protect their vulnerable skins. For many years Stichting Afrikaanse Albino's has been making every effort to send sun lotion to Africa and to provide the necessary information and education.

The way in which Stichting Afrikaanse Albino's works is simple but effective. Together with a large group of volunteers, the foundation collects as much sun lotion as possible with a factor of at least 30. This is the minimum factor necessary for protection against skin cancer.

Several times per year the bottles are shipped to Africa. The aim of Stichting Afrikaanse Albino's is to improve the quality of life for African albinos by providing this service and more.

Help for African countries The foundation helps over 4000 albinos. We have projects in, among others, Guinee-Bissau, Tanzania and Uganda. Via local contacts, such as hospitals and albino-associations, the supplies we provide, (sun lotion but also sun glasses, UV-protective clothing and lip balsam etc.) are distributed. The contact persons have the means, knowledge and, in particular, the connections through which albinos can be reached.

The foundation also stimulates local production of sun lotion through a project in Mali.

How can you help?

Support us! Make a single donation or become a regular supporter! For 5 euro you can support one albino for two months. Give through our website or via our bank account - IBAN NL03INGB0004442081.
